Amazing Free Information...only 14.95!

What does FREE really mean?

If "something" costs nothing, is that really what it's worth?

In the beginning of new information and new ideas,
"capture now, decide later." What does that mean?

Simple.

The real value proposition in this marketplace is in The Results.

Which means the beginning is too soon to decide what something is really worth.

Even when you have to "pay" for it.

What's the price of admission for your next great learning experience?

That's the paradox.

Price vs. Value.

Seeking and Doing vs. Wishing and Hoping.

That's the mystery of life and success.

It's really no mystery at all for the serious student or the individual committed to finding the answers.

What if you absolutely must become a success at your chosen profession?

Could you? Would you?

Chances are excellent you'd find a way. History confirms it.

What if it were true?

That hidden on countless internet sites, stashed away in books on walls of shelves,
and in the minds of amazing individuals,
there was information for (almost) FREE that has been tested and tried and proven, just waiting for you to discover it.

Information on how to sell more of your stuff!
How to become better at networking!
How to radically redesign your website!
How to become an amazing marketer!
How to become uncommon!
How to put more life into yours!
Make more money, have more ideas, gain wisdom, and on and on and on.

The good news and bad news?
There's plenty of free information that's too expensive, and countless resources that have produced seven figure payoffs and filled lives with purpose and resolve and fulfillment of which no one asks (or cares) about the price.

The fact is:

Most people won't do what it takes to become great, even when they know what it is.
There is no lack of opportunity for greatness, only a lack of resolve.
An apathy or attitude that says "it's too hard" or "it costs too much" or "what's the use..."
That's why the price doesn't matter as much as the value.
It's why wanting and wishing are common, and why the reward of results will always be largely a product of an individual's resolve.
Will you or won't you?
That's the question.

The answer isn't multiple choice, it's personal and it's fill in the blank.
There's only one pencil, and you've got it.
How will you answer?

Today a book that was once an idea goes on sale.
It's about more than motivation. It's all about Commitment.
I've had countless people try and put a label on what I do from the platform.
They'll say something like, "Oh, you're a MOTIVATIONAL speaker."
Nope. Only You can motivate You!
I'm a commitment speaker.

Commitment is stronger than motivation.
Commitment says "I will" no matter what.
No matter how you feel tomorrow or even if no one else shows up, you will.
That's the power of Commitment.

The 10 Commitments is my latest book.
Me...an author?
Who would have believed it? (For a long time, just me...)
If no one else believes what you wish to become but you alone, that is enough if you will make the Commitment to go there.

A number of my friends and mentors and peers have graciously agreed to contribute to your value proposition when you buy my book.
(Did I ask for the sale yet?)
Jeffrey Gitomer, Don "The Idea Guy", others you've heard of, and many you may not have heard about...yet. Each of them has something priceless to give you.

If you will bring the commitment part of the equation, each of us can offer evidence that something amazing can happen for you too.

If you'd like to know more about becoming uncommon and how to fuel your commitment toward whatever you wish to become,

And if not, hope the free information thing works out for you.
I'm Michael York (just in case anyone cares).
